INNOVATIONS IN PALLIATIVE CARE

"And Justice For All? The Jury is Out"

Target Audience

Palliative/Hospice Care Providers of all Disciplines

Objectives

By attending this program the learner will have an opportunity to enhance knowledge in Hospice Palliative Care specifically:

- The key ethical principles that guide our clinical care and philosophy of practice, and assist us in working through ethical challenges in patient and family care.
- The components of effective program design that remains patient centered, honours justice and other ethical principles and minimizes obstacles to transitions in care.
- The details that must go into effective planning for current and future care for patients and families.
- The power of personhood in our care as heard through the telling of patient/family/caregiver stories.
- Working with the moral tension we feel when patients do not receive the standard of care to which they are entitled and which we value for them.

Agenda

- 08:00 - 9:00 am      Registration and Continental Breakfast (Webster A/B/C and Webster Lounge)
- 09:00 - 9:15 am      Introductions and Report from the Division of Palliative Care
Alan Taniguchi for Anne Woods
- 09:15 - 10:30 am      "Ethics Across the Board"
Revisiting the Philosophy and Ethical Foundations that Support Hospice Palliative Care in All its Dimensions
Elizabeth Latimer, Denise Marshall and Alan Taniguchi
This panel of presenters will consider three components of ethics that are germane to excellence in Hospice Palliative Care: a review of the philosophy and ethical principles that form the foundation of practice and guide patient care and program development; a discussion of the major continuing ethical dilemmas encountered in clinical patient and family care practice; a description of the ethical considerations when developing programs and systems of care; and consideration of the moral tension that is experienced when we cannot provide what we believe is necessary and desirable for patients and families.
- 10:30- 10:45 am      Panel Discussion
- 10:45 - 11:00 am      Comfort Break (Webster Lounge)
- 11:00 - 11:45 am      A Provincial System of Hospice Palliative Care – Can We Build It?
Andrea Martin and Julie Darnay
Patients living with progressive life-limiting illness and their families receive care across multiple settings from multiple health care providers. This “system” of care is complex and creates many challenges for individuals who have no choice but to navigate their way through it. If the system we have isn’t the system that we want, what should it look like and can there be some provincial consistency in this regard? This session presents a possible vision or ‘gold standard’ of what a fully functioning integrated hospice palliative care service delivery model could look like – one that across Ontario is equitable, easily accessible and of high quality.
- 11:45 - 12:00 pm      Questions & Answers
- 12:00 - 13:15 pm      Lunch (Webster A & B and Webster Lounge)
- 12:30 - 12:45 pm      Greetings from the HNHB LHIN
Pat Mandy (Webster C)
- 12:45 - 13:15 pm      HNHB HPC Network AGM (Webster C)
- 13:15 - 14:15 pm      Planning for Care
Anne Boyle, Janet Noble, Kathleen Willison
Each patient diagnosed with progressive life-limiting illness and his family will have their own set of experiences throughout their illness trajectory. These experiences will differ from one person to another depending on, among other things, the disease itself, where they live, family support systems, etc. It will also depend on the health care providers and organizations that are involved in their care. What should these groups focus on and how should they go about helping to plan care that takes into consideration all of the many factors?
- 14:15 - 14:45 pm      Questions & Answers
- 14:45 - 15:00 pm      Comfort Break - (Webster Lounge)
- 15:00 - 16:00 pm      Once Upon a Time - Stories that Need to be Heard and Told. The Importance of Storytelling in Hospice Palliative Care
Brian Berger
As palliative caregivers, we can get caught up in the day to day medical and nursing care of patients, sometimes forgetting the value of an individual's life story; how powerful that can be therapeutically. In addition, as caregivers stories can shape us, and our future care. In this talk, the presenter will discuss the value of stories, the way these stories impact on our care, and the way they impact on us as caregivers. This will be highlighted with a few case examples that teach us this in a unique way.
- 16:00 pm              Wrap up and Evaluations
